Reading Comprehension

DIRECTIONS: Read each passage carefully and then answer the question/s that follow/s. Choose the letter that corresponds to the correct answer based on the given selections.

71. The United States has given the free world the concept of "the American Dream," and thousands from all over the earth immigrate to America to pursue it. If one works hard, educates oneself and one's children, obeys the laws, and executes the responsibilities of a citizen, one can expect prosperity. One's children can only do better.

The main idea of the passage above is that:

- a. Hard work reaps rewards all over the earth.
b. Only the children profit from their parents' efforts.
c. "The American Dream" is only a dream.
d. "The American Dream" promises earthly rewards for productive behaviors.
e. Not presented in the passage.

72. Working on a computer can be very frustrating if you don't follow the rules. Rule Number One for word processing is "Save your work frequently." You can sit and yell at the machine when your stuff disappears. You can bang the keyboard. You can even cry. The fact remains, had you saved frequently, a lot more than nothing would still be there.

Which sentence best expresses the main idea of the passage above?

- a. Even modern computers are not truly- user-friendly.
- b. Word processing has lots of bugs, and the industry should be ashamed.
- c. The wise typist saves often.
- d. When the computer wins and you lose, get angry.
- e. Not presented in the passage.

73. Sam shivered as he passed from the bright sunlight into the gloom of the alley on that brilliant January day. As he pulled his jacket collar closer to his neck, feeling miserable about his mission, the eternally childish shouts from the end of the alley echoed familiarly. He could make out his parents' silhouettes, posed like old-fashioned boxers, ahead of him in the gloom, and wondered anew at how they could always make him feel like he was the forever big brother, the forever responsible party.

The paragraph could be entitled:

- a. "A cold January Day"
- b. "The Battered Wife"
- c. "The Child as Parent"
- d. "Alleys"
- e. "The Prodigal Son"

74. The parents frantically gathered in the schoolyard, some panic-stricken at the possibility that their children might be among the injured. The construction workers stood in a group to one side, knowing that they had perfectly secured their operation the night before, that access to the explosives was limited to a crowbar-wielding thief. Sheriff's deputies approached both groups, knowing they had to soothe as well as question. The man in camouflage watched the proceedings through binoculars from the top of a distant tree. A hunter, he'd seen what had happened but could not decide whether to tell the tale.

The point of the paragraph is that:

- a. An explosion has ripped through a school.
- b. Construction workers aren't necessarily careless
- c. Parents may panic understandably
- d. The hunter faces a dilemma.
- e. Not all students were hurt.

75. The complexities of being an adult who attends school are manifold. Home, work, and school compete. Parenting responsibilities remain in full force, no matter what other activities an adult pursues. Job demands are incessant and presume one's constant alertness and availability during working hours. School requires not only attendance but also the execution of a multitude of homework assignments. Only those who are strong, disciplined, flexible, and committed survive and thrive.

What idea does the paragraph develop?

- a. To succeed, an adult must be mature in nature.
- b. Employers assume one has no life outside their job.
- c. No matter what other demands may come and go, children are always there.
- d. College studies are not simply a matter of going to class.
- e. Jobs are permanent and must be valued.

Passage for items 76-80:

Seagulls live on the beach. They eat small fish, bread, and seaweed. Seagulls run quickly on the sand and fly quickly in the sky. Seagulls will run or fly away if you try to catch them. There are many seagulls on the beach. Crabs also live on the beach. They eat shrimp, ocean plants, and small fish. Crabs crawl quickly on the sand and in the ocean. Passage for items 81-85:

Today, Mike and his mom are going to the library. Mike wants to find a book to read. His mom wants to use a computer there.

When they get to the library, Mike finds a book about detectives. He also finds a book with chapters about a friendly ghost. Finally, he finds a book about a man who lives in the woods without food or water. He puts the books on the front desk and waits for his mom.

Mike's mom sits at one of the computers in the library. She checks her email and looks at pictures of flowers on the internet. Then she reads a news article on a website.

Mike's mom leaves the computer and walks over to Mike, holding up something out for him. Mike looks at her quizzically. It takes him a moment to recognize what she is holding. "I got that movie for us to watch tonight," says Mike's mom. "Are you ready to leave?"

"Sure," Mike says, now holding the movie out in front of him. He reads the cover while walking back to the library entrance. He puts his books and the movie on the front desk to check- out. A librarian stands behind the counter holding an electronic scanner. "How long can we keep them?" Mike asks her.

"Three weeks," says the librarian.

"Cool," says Mike.

Suddenly, Mike is surprised. His mother is checking out something else that is too big to put on the desk. It's a picture of the ocean.

"What is that for?" Mike asks.

"To put on our wall at home," says Mike's mom.
